IV. Jeff Rainey, Coldstream Farms.

Jeff came to express his thanks to the Board and NRCS for the EQIP cost-share that he received on components of a bedding recovery unit. Jeff enjoys working with Chris Clark and found Chris very helpful during the installation of the project. They have a 750-800 cow dairy. Jeff explained that the bedding recovery unit helped eliminate their solids applications. It has also helped with costs associated with bedding material. They don't use big bale straw anymore. The cows are cleaner and healthier. They have had a very positive experience with the bedding recovery unit. It was suggested that the project would make a good feature for our annual Report of Accomplishments for the year.

Jeff also shared an article regarding Greenhouse Gases with the Board.

British Columbia Ag Forum is scheduled for June 16, 2010 in Abbotsford from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. A flyer was passed around. 80% of British Columbia's agricultural production is in the Fraser Valley.

George gave a synopsis of Nichole Embertson's presentation regarding the EPA Application Risk Management (ARM) system grant given to the Department of Ecology. Ecology prefers to have a definitive date for beginning and ending manure applications. The ARM system is looking at environmental factors that may change the "date" from year to year but will be offer more protection to surface and groundwater because of enhanced crop uptake of nutrients.

Alex expressed his appreciation in having Chris Clark working on EQIP under the Technical Service Provider (TSP) contracts. There is good feedback and positive benefits to both the District and NRCS.

Alex gave some criteria for qualifying for the organic EQIP. The project has to be 5% of one acre. The life span of the practice is 4 years. Yields and other information will be shared with NRCS to see if the practice is worth continuing. If there are more funds available, another project may get funded.

Department of Ecology Meeting –

Alex attended the ARM system presentation that Nichole gave to the Department of Ecology. He was impressed with her presentation. It appears to be a good system to help farmers implement their farm plans. NRCS locally support the project.

Larry also attended the Ecology meeting. He expressed his thoughts on the questions presented by Ecology. Larry was a little disappointed that the EPA representatives did not say anything about the grant in response to questions posed to Nichole.

Joe attended Nichole's presentation. She did an excellent job. He mentioned all of the agencies in attendance. It was a 2 hour presentation in a less than amiable environment. Chris Clark also provided good input to the discussion.

Joe wondered how this would impact the EPA grant. George added that Whatcom Conservation District received two EPA grants of $1.5 million out of $10 million in the area.

Larry Davis –

The Local Work Group meeting was successful. They kept the same funding pools from 2010. The unspent funds from the Forestry pool will reallocate to the multiple small farm and forestry pool then reallocate to the other funds.

Steve Nissley will try filling out the Resource Matrix and send to the rest of the region for comment.
